

Some properties of the image of the star of the plane

The polylogarithm map Li can be extended partly to some series. In this talk, we examine the algebra generated by the image of Li of a particular family of series that we call "Star of the plane". We discuss the basis of the algebra as a module and the characters of this algebra. We also prove the linear independence of the usual polylogarithms over this algebra.